By RAYMOND WILCOVE

HARRISBURG, April 23—Marking the end of an unexciting primary campaign obscured by the war in Europe, voters went to the polls today to cast their ballots for state and party offices.

A total Republican and Democratic vote in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 was expected. Approximately 4,700,000 persons are entitled to vote.

The 8,089 polling booths throughout the state will remain open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Voters will ballot for party nominees for the fall election for United States senator, auditor general, state treasurer, congress, the general assembly, delegate to the national presidential conventions and state, county and city committeemen.

Roosevelt's Name On Ballot

In addition, Democratic voters will get a chance to cast a preferential ballot for Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose name is the only one appearing in the presidential primary. Gov. Arthur H. James, who is running as a delegate-at-large will receive the state's 72 votes at the Republican national convention in June.

With the nomination of Republican organization candidates for state wide offices practically assured chief interest centered in the outcome of the Democratic race between U. S. Senator J. F. Guffey and Walter A. Jones, both of Pittsburgh. Jones, the chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike commission, is backed by Democratic state chairman David L. Lawrence who is battling Guffey for control of the party. A third candidate is anti-new dealer and former Pittsburgh mayor William N. McNair.

Republican leaders, assured of the nomination of their candidates, centered their attention on rolling up a larger vote than their Democratic opponents. Republican registration exceeds Democratic by approximatly 500,000.

Nearly 2000 Candidates

Close to 2,000 candidates are battling for party nominations in today's election. They are: Three in each party for United States sen-

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Weather conditions were fine this morning for a visit to the polls but it didn't appear that a large proportion of the voters were taking advantage of the opportunity for early voting.

Water in the various streams in this district was fast receding today, and within a day or so, streams will be back at normal stage, unless there is another deluge in the meantime.

It is to be hoped that weather conditions become more nearly normal for spring, so that work can be started on improving a lot of the streets where surfacing needs attention, and rebuilding a lot of sidewalks that have been badly damaged by the severe winter weather.

"Britain Now Determined Not Only To Defeat Hitler; But Whole German People"

—DUFF COOPER.

By NEWELL ROGERS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 23.— Britain's soldiers now are imbued with the determination not only to defeat Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler but the whole German people, Alfred Duff Cooper, former first lord of the admiralty, told a St. George's Day banquet today.

Duff Cooper deputized for his successor, Winston Churchill.

The latter's absence from the function aroused keen speculation as to whether the British navy that is under his supreme command may be engaged in some major operation at sea necessitating his active direction every moment.

Today is not only a solemn British holiday but the anniversary of the famed British raid on Zeebrugge during the World War.

The mood of young Britons going out to war, Duff Cooper said, "Is one of bitter rage, grim defiance and

Anti-Aircraft Batteries In Action In Paris Area

(International News Service)

PARIS, April 23. — Anti-aircraft batteries in the Paris region went into action spasmodically during the night, searchlights swept the skies and droning planes were heard, but authorities declared today that no incidents had occurred.

Air raid alarms were sounded in various parts of France, indicating that German reconnaissance planes were active.

An artillery duel lasting several hours broke out in the Nied river section of the western front.

An attack by German detachments east of the Moselle, supported by Germann artillery, was broke up and repulsed with heavy losses to the Nazis, reports to Paris stated.

Aerial Reconnaissance

Both French and German planes carried out intensive aerial reconnaissance activities on Sunday and Monday. Yesterday the Germans centered their aerial activities over the Belgian and Luxembourg borders, ignoring other sections of the front, it was reported.

There were several combats, but, it was believed, only one German Dornier plane was shot down.

According to advices here British raids against German air bases in Scandinavia have crippled the German-held airdromes at Stavanger, Norway, and Aarlborg, Denmark. Germa air activity in Norway was said to have been reduced greatly during the past 48 hours.

Other reports in Paris stated that English forces effected a landing in southern Orway and made contact with Norwegian forces on the main front north of Oslo.

A French war ministry spokesman said he believed that the entire Narvik front in northern Norway will be "cleaned up shortly."

Little Activity At Polls Today

Indications Point To Light Vote Being Cast In City And County

POLLS WILL CLOSE AT EIGHT O'CLOCK

Trickling in about as fast as a flow of glue on a frosty morning, the voters of New Castle and Lawrence county, (some of them) went to the polls today to register their choices for nominees on the Republican and Democratic tickets. At noon the election board officials were suffering with ennui and the workers at the polls still had most of their cards.

The weather may induce a better vote in the city this afternoon and early tonight but by the same sign will probably keep the farmers at home. Spring work is behind and the average farmer is using every daylight hour of good days to get his licks in.

Candidates Hopeful

Among the candidates the condition is ideal for a victory, for all of them. Not a candidate but feels confident this afternoon that he will get the nod from the voters, but for some this will be changed about midnight tonight.

Even for a presidential year primary, which is usually slow, the election today in this county—at least up until noon—was a record low for interest. In a few precincts where there are county committee fights, the vote is getting out fairly well but for the most part the interest is lagging.

The fact that the polls are open until eight tonight may spur more voters to the polls. Cars are working, carrying voters out, and some personal work is being done from house to house. But for the most part the election is drawing little interest.

Mackenzie King Meets Roosevelt

Canadian Prime Minister Confers With President At Warm Springs, Ga.

VISITOR TO REMAIN UNTIL TOMORROW

By GEORGE DURNO
Intenational News Service Staff Correspondent

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., April 23—President Roosevelt and Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King had an appointment in the pine sheltered seclusion of the "Little Whitehouse" here today that may have an important bearing on American interpretation of the Monroe doctrine and "hemispherical defense."

The Canadian leader was arriving by motor from Atlanta. He will remain in Warm Springs as a presidential house guest until tomorrow afternoon.

Increasingly threatening developments in the European war promised to occupy the attention of Mr. Roosevelt and King. It was the first talk they have had since Canada became embroiled in the war abroad along with England and France.

Early Custom

The president in announcing the prime-minister's arrival, somewhat deprecated the importance of the visit. He pointed out that King had been spending his annual spring vacation at Virginia Beach, Va., and it was his yearly custom to pay his respects to the American chief executive.

Since last they met, however, Germany has occupied Denmark, "protectively." Denmark owns Greenland, which the president says belongs to the western hemisphere on the basis of geography, geology and Flora and Fauna.

Should Germany attempt to physically take over this northern island,

British Must Pay More Tax

Series Of Unprecedented New Taxes Proposed By Sir John Simon

HUGE WAR COST BEING REVEALED

International News Service Staff Correspondent
By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, April 23.—Faced with the task of raising enough money to wage war against Germany at the rate of $15,070 per minute, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon introduced a series of unprecedented new taxes in his war budget speech to the House of Commons today.

Estimating total expenses for the current year at $10,668,000,000 and revenues at $4,936,000,000, Sir John said that periodic loans would be needed to cover the deficit, but presented plans for a new "purchase tax" which he said would substantially contribute toward the cost of war.

This he estimated at $8,000,000,000 alone. In order to meet the military expenditures of $21,700,000 a day, he raised the tax on beer,

Report Norwegian Town Of Dombas Attacked And Destroyed By Bombers

(International News Service)

BERLIN, April 23.—German troops in Norway have advanced to a point 60 miles northeast of the Nazi-held Port of Trondheim, compelling enemy forces there to retreat, the German high command announced today.

In addition, the war communique state, British naval units bombarded Narvik but attempted no landings there.

(London authorities said there was no confirmation that the threatened British bombardment of Narvik has begun. They refused to comment on the German communique, which they suggested was issued for the purpose of "fishing for information.")

The German communique claimed that two British transports had been sunk and another set on fire by direct bomb hits. In addition, it asserted, one British destroyer was sunk and another was damaged.

Berlin authorities remained confident that the German army would be able to retain a firm grip on all key points in central and southern Norway and claimed the Allied and Norwegian forces there were daily running increased risks as German reinforcements—particularly armor-

PUBLIC MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

First steps towards the organization of a volunteer fire department in Neshannock township were taken Monday evening, at a mass meeting of the township residents who voted favorably on the question.

Nearly 100 persons attended the meeting, and nearly all of that number signed applications for membership in the new fire department. James Messner, temporary chairman, presided at the meeting.

New Castle's fire chief, James E. Thomas spoke and stressed the fact that, "sooner or later the city trucks would be prohibited to leave the city limits." Chief Thomas also stated that the city would be in a better position to cooperate with a community with organized fire protection, than with one without it.

Due to the lack of big issues or close contests throughout the state, in most of the balloting, there will be no special state telegraph wire service on the election tonight.

Expect Italy To Remain Neutral

Indications Seen That Italy To Retain Status Of "Non-Belligerency"

BRITAIN-ITALIAN CONFERENCES HELD

By PERCY WINNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, April 23.—Major "constructive" decisions affecting the relations between Italy and Great Britain may be expected before the week is out, International News Service was informed on highest authority today.

At the same time, this correspondent is in a position to state that unless conditions change radically and unexpectedly, Italy may be counted upon to retain her status of "non-belligerency" almost indefinitely.

The best informed military and diplomatic authorities in Rome agree that for the present at least there are no concrete indications that Premier Mussolini plans to renounce his own particular form of neutrality for participation in the war.

Conversations Progress

Conversations of greatest importance are now under way in both London and Rome. They center about recent aggravation of the principal problems affecting Britain and Italy, particularly involved in tightening of the British blockade.

The "constructive measures" planned to overcome them are expected to result in clarification and compromise.

In this connection, it was understood that Premier Mussolini does not object to presence of a large portion of the British fleet close to Italian waters, provided they re-

"Keep Out Of The War" Is Nation's Sentiment Say Noted Publishers

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 23.—"Keep out of the war."

This is the sentiment of the people of the United States, as expressed today by the nation's foremost editors and publishers who are in New York attending the 54th annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association which opened this morning in the Waldorf-Astoria with more than 1,000 attending

Business conditions, according to many editors, are improving although some of them reported "uncertainty."

Political discussions drew conflicting opinions, depending upon the editor interviewed. For example, James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville (Tenn.) Banner, independent, said:

"Cordell Hull and James A. Farley would be a knockout Democratic ticket."

Believe G. O. P. Can Win

On the other hand, Publisher Frank E. Gannett, of Rochester, N. Y., a G. O. P. presidential aspirant, and Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, both believe the Republican party can win in 1940. And both believe Franklin D. Roosevelt will run for a third term.

Senator Capper expressed the view that neither major political

The text of the verdict was that the men came to their deaths as the result of a slide of earth, and from the testimony, no evidence of negligence was shown upon the part of the employing company, the City of New Castle Water Company, the slide being an accident, of which there was no previous warning.

Those composing the jury, were: Peter Rupp, Stephen Golis, Walter Presnar, Charles E. Allen, Stanley Data, and Bart Richards.

Five Battleships Soon To Be Added To British Navy

New 35,000 Ton Battleships Are Undergoing Secret Tests, It Is Disclosed

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 23. — Britain's naval fleet will be strengthened shortly by five new 35,000-ton battleships which now are undergoing secret tests, it was disclosed today.

The new vessels are the King George V, Prince of Wales, Duke of York, Beatty and Jellicoe.

Revelation that these mighty vessels soon will be added to Britain's powerful battle line bore out the recent forecast of First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill that Britain soon "will have in commission five new battleships."

(According to Jane's fighting ships, the new British vessels each will carry probably three aircraft. They will be armed with ten 14-inch guns and sixteen 5.25-inch guns. They will be heavily protected, especially against air attack, with armour unofficially estimated at 14,000 tons, and 16 inches thick at the waterline.)

STOCKHOLM, April 23.—British warships and aircraft opened a slashing attack on a fleet of German transports in the Skagerrak today.

Reports from the Swedish island of Ursholmen said that a heavy cannonade was heard all along the Swedish west coast.

Many warships and planes were engaged in the onslaught.

At one stage of the battle, residents of Ursholmen and surrounding territory saw a number of destroyers firing a constant fusillade while travelling at full speed.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Reports of a new naval battle in the Skagerrak recalled that Winston Churchill, British first lord of the admiralty, cancelled plans to address a St. George's Day banquet in London. STOCKHOLM, April 23.—With their far northern contingents apparently hopelessly trapped by the British at Narvik, German columns were reported advancing on both sides of the Mjoesa front north of Hamar today, although Lillehammer apparently remained in Norwegian hands.

Official Norwegian advices told of stern allied resistance to the advancing Nazis near Hamar. At Valdres, on the southern front, Norwegian troops captured 100 German prisoners.

Latest word in Stockholm continued to stress imminence of a major bombardment of Narvik by British warships.

Soviet Plans No Further Aggression

Soviet Leader Gives Attitude

No Aggressive Intentions Against Either Finland Or Sweden Is Claim

NAZI AGREEMENT IS NON-POLITICAL

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 23. — Soviet Russia has no aggressive intentions against either Finland or Sweden.

Her agreement with Nazi Germany is absolutely non-political. Therefore she will conclude any agreement with Great Britain which coincides with her own interests, regardless of the Reich's reaction.

These two unequivocal declarations, of immense importance in Europe's frenzied diplomatic warfare, were made to International News Service today by the most authoritative Soviet spokesman in London.

They came at the conclusion of a long argument devoted to illustrating Russia's "real neutrality as contrasted with Italian non-belligerency."

As regards Finland, the spokesman declared that appointment of Dr. Juho Paasikivi as Finnish minister to Moscow was a clear sign of Russo-Finnish good-will. Only some unfriendly Finnish move, he declared, can upset the present calm situation, "and this is unlikely."

The present fortified safety of Leningrad and Kronstadt and occupation of Hangoe reduces Soviet interest in Sweden's fate, the spokesman said.

"But we hope she will not fall victim to either belligerent in Europe's war."

main "inactive." There was considerable perturbation in Rome on Saturday over reports that British warships had halted a number of Italian vessels carrying Egyptian cotton near Malta.

Compromise Made

Some Italian compromise has now been made in this regard, it was understood, but its exact nature is not known.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: It was thought possible that Italy might agree not to re-export such materials to Germany in exchange for a promise by the British that normal Italian trade between Egypt and Italy would not be molested.)

Well-informed circles in Rome said that Mussolini's desire not to impede the Italo-British talks was responsible for concellation of an address scheduled for last Saturday, in which he could hardly have avoided discussion of the war and reference to repeated assertions by his newspapers that Germany is destined to win it.

So far as the general situation and the future are concerned, these same competent quarters said it was extremely unlikely that Mussolini would pay any visit to Chancellor Hitler in the near future.

There is now unmistakeable evidence, they said, that Il Duce is concentrating all his attention on his own problems in the Mediterranean and the Balkans.

The German military organization in Norway is rounding out quickly, authorities claimed.

Communique Issued

British naval forces again bombarded the town and Port of Narvik but did not attempt any landing," the communique said.

"Supported by light naval units German troops pushed 60 miles northeast of Trondheim and forced the enemy there to retreat. The Germans also blocked roads leading south from Namsos.

"One Norwegian patrol vessel was destroyed at Vaksdal Fjord. Fighting continues in the Bergen and Stavanger sectors against scattered Norwegian units, and more cannon have been captured by the Germans.

"North of Oslo the Germans advanced beyond Wamot and Lillehammar despite the difficulties presented by the terrain and barricades constructed by the enemy.

"The air force successfully supported the troop operations and one Norwegian plane was destroyed.

Earlier it was announced that German planes yesterday photographed British naval bases in the Orkney and Shetland Islands and reported on the movements of British warships and troop transports.

In two instances, it was stated, British pursuit planes attempted to intercept the German planes but each time gave up the chase, apparently owing to lack of fuel.

Town Is Attacked

Shortly after midnight German headquarters announced that German bombing planes attacked and destroyed the Norwegian town of Dombas, scene of the death of Capt. Robert M. Losey, American air attache, who was struck by a German bomb splinter on Sunday.

The German announcement also stated that Quays at Adalsnes and Namsos were destroyed by bombs and two British warships heavily damaged.

Two British transports were sunk and another was set on fire as a result of direct bomb hits off Andalsnes, it was claimed.

British troops were bombed, machine-gunned and dispersed with heavy losses in the Namsos and Andalsnes regions, the German statement added.

Supplementing these announcements, the war communique stated today:

"Off Andalsnes and the Norwegian west coast, bombers again attacked British warships and transports and sank a destroyer and transport despite heavy anti-aircraft fire.

He stated that he told the men to come out and help throw in the third joint of pipe, and that his brother, who had been working in the ditch had gotten out, but that the other three men were still in the ditch when a crescent-shaped piece of the bank gave way, covering them.

He stated that the ditch was about six feet six inches deep at this point, that the earth was hard pan, and that the ditch did not look dangerous, although he had ordered jacks be brought to put in the ditch, and that they had intended putting them in after the third section of pipe had been lowered into the ditch. The shovel had been shut down about ten minutes before the cave-in he stated.

Came Out Of Ditch

Paul Parks stated that he had just come out of the ditch and was on the solid ground above, when the cave-in occurred. He did not see the earth start to slide, but saw it before it had hit the other side of the ditch, he stated.

He said there was no indication that the earth would give way and that everything looked safe enough to him. He said a little water was seeping into the bottom of the ditch, making it slightly muddy on the bottom.

Daniel Bartos, Angelo Ragnelli, Paul Bocker, and Frank Vendilla, who are employed by the water company, all gave similar testimony. All stated that they felt the ditch was safe enough, and saw no indications of any slide developing.

Paul Mooney, who operated the power shovel, stated that the earth at this point was very hard. He said the shovel did not cause any vibration of the ground. He had stopped the shovel about five minutes before the cave-in, as they did not want to dig too much of the ditch at a time so that it would not fill up with water. He was not looking right at the ditch when the earth gave way, but saw it out of the corner of his eye.

Elmer Farrell, Sewer Commissioner William G. Fleming, Charles Nolan, and William Travers, all of whom are employed by the street and sewer departments of the city, told of being called to go to the scene and of helping to remove the last of the men from the ditch. All were of the opinion from previous experience in this kind of work that the ditch was safe enough, and that the cave-in was purely an accident for which they could not account.

MACKENZIE KING MEETS ROOSEVELT

Nazi influence would be extended half-way across the Atlantic in the direction of the United States and Canada.

Mr. Roosevelt already is on record —in a speech at Kingston, Ontario in August, 1938—that the United States would not stand idly by if Canada should ever be attacked.

With the dominion now actually involved in Europe's war, recent moves on the part of Chancellor Adolf Hitler take on new significance. It has been suggested in some quarters that Canada might take Greenland into "protective custody." Straight interpretation of the Monroe doctrine would bring a protest from Washington against any Canadian move, say many experts. What Mr. Roosevelt and Mackenzie King may say about the matter probably will remain a deep secret —at least for the present.

BRITISH MUST PAY MORE TAX

whiskey, tobacco and matches, boosted the postal and telegraph rates, levied duties on virtually everything that is not a necessity to sheer existence.

Sir John gave only one solace. He did not increase the basic income tax rate of 7 shillings 6 pence in the pound, but disclosed that supertaxes were now taking 85 per cent of "top bracket" incomes and promised that when the war is over, a few profiteers would not find themselves with colossal fortunes.

Britain, he said, is "saving money" on the war so far.

NEW CAUSE FOR DIVORCE

(International News Service)

SALEM, Mass., April 23. — Add reasons for divorce: Henry A. Tarr, 29, Gloucester, told a probate judge that Mrs. Muriel A. Tarr, 26, who he said admitted he "was still a swell guy" preferred to keep a general store for her grandfather to living with him. The plea was taken under advisement.

BRITISH WARSHIPS AND PLANES ATTACK NAZI TRANSPORTS

Allied hands within a few hours, according to a dispatch from Stockholm today.

Thousands of Germans are trapped inside the town, barricading the streets and fortifying houses for a last desperate stand, the dispatch stated. The entire civilian population has been evacuated.

A force of 1,500 Germans who left the town with the intention of attacking the British rear have been cut off from the main body and completely surrounded, the dispatch added.

Prepare For Attack

Stockholm, April 23. — British forces prepared today to launch a determined onslaught against German forces at Narvik and at the same time drew an Allied military net closer around Nazi-held Trondheim.

(A Reuters (British) dispatch from Gaddede on the Norwegian frontier stated fierce fighting was proceeding between British and German forces at Stiklestad, north of the Port of Trondheim.

(This dispatch stated that a German destroyer from Trondheim landed troops north of the port with the object of attacking the British from the rear. It added, however, that the Germans were driven off by British troops lining the road from Steinkjer.)

Reports received in Stockholm stated tht Steinkjer, where British troops arrived several days ago, was bombed and in flames.

Towns Are Ruined

Despite German air raids which left at least five towns in partial ruins, Allied and Norwegian troops were reported advancing together in the Trondheim, Narvik and Hamar sectors.

British and Norwegian forces closed in on nearly 5,000 German troops trapped at Narvik, and more British warships steamed into Narvik Fjord and turned their heavy artillery upon the town, ready to unleash the full power of their guns upon it.

In the Trondheim sector Allied troops reached Stoeren, 25 miles south of the German-occupied port, where attempts were under way to trap and choke off another 5,000 Germans.

Heavy fighting was reported on both sides of Trondheim as swarms of German warplanes went into action, raining explosives on British positions and rail and road communication routes.

On the wavering fighting front in the interior of Norway, the British claimed capture of Lillehammar, 25 miles north of Hamar. (Latest advices from Berlin claimed Lillehammar was still in German hands.)

Still Held By Germans

In Stockholm, however, the Norwegian legation was forced to revise its previous statements and admit that Hamar and Elverum were still in possession of the Germans. The legation denied, nevertheless, that the Germans held Lillehammar.

German air raids burned or partially destroyed Namsos, Elverum, Andalsnes, Steinkjer and the Vaerdalsoeres junction.

(Berlin also announced that Dombas, railroad fork where Capt. Robert M. Losey, American air attache, was killed by a German bomb splinter, was destroyed.)

British warship concentrations increased all along the Norwegian coast in preparation for further landings and attacks and the civilian population of Narvik was ordered to evacuate the northern iron ore port prior to the British naval bombardment.

The anticipated shelling of the town was designed to "soften" German resistance prior to an expected British attempt to storm and capture Narvik.

TWO MILLION OF STATE'S ELIGIBLES MAY VOTE TODAY

ator, auditor general and state treasurer; 356 for delegates to the Republican and Democratic national convention: 315 for state committee; 155 for congress; 783 for the state house of representatives; and 76 for the state senate. In addition, each party will select county and city committeemen.

Of this number each party will nominate the following: one for senate, auditor general and state treasurer; 208 for the state house of representative; 25 for the state senate: 34 for congress; and 113 for state committee.

In race for the state senate, only half the membership of 50 is up for election, the terms of the remainder not expiring until 1942. Thirty primary candidates for the senate are unopposed. In the house race, all are up for election, but the Democrats are offering no opposition in 10 of the 67 counties.

Appear Certain Of Nomination

In the contests for state-wide offices the following candidates appeared assured of nomination: In the Republican primary, the three organization candidates, namely, Jay Cooke, Philadelphia banker, for U. S. Senator, State Senator Frederick T. Gelder, of Forest City, for auditor general; and James F. Malone, Pittsburgh, for state treasurer. Also the four organization candidates for delegates-at-large, namely Gov. James, U. S. Senator James J. Davis, national committeeman G. Mason Owlett and National committeeman Marjorie Scranton.

In the Democratic primary, State Treasurer F. Clair Ross appeared assured of the nomination for auditor general with the withdrawal of his two opponents, Donald M. Livingston, of Media, former public utility commissioner Jos. D. Burke, of Philadelphia, former assemblyman. Both withdrew too late to have their names removed from the ballot, however. All of the 16 Democratic delgates-at-large also appeared certain of nomination.

A three-way battle for the Democratic nomination for state treasurer left the issue there in doubt. The candidates are Jackson E. Scarl, Bethlehem, former young Democrats president; owen B. Hunt, Philadelphia, former state insurance commissioner, who is backed by the Guffey forces; and G. Harold Wagner, Wilkes-Barre, an appraiser in the auditor-general department who has the support of the Lawrence group.

SHARON YOUTHS FACING CHARGES

ranged over more than a year. The police asserted that in Sharon, the boys were accused of robbing approximately 25 houses.

When the Meek jewelry store robbery was discovered Sunday, State motor police, Sheriff M. M. Ingham and Police Chief Glenn Martin of New Wilmington immediateiy launched an investigation. Approximately $200.00 worth of jewelry and cutlery was reported stolen.

The investigation brought fruit and led McCullough and Klare into Mercer county. They conferred with Chief Steger of the Sharon police department. With the information that was gathered in Lawrence county the boys were arrested last night by McCullough, Klare and Steger.

The boys were questioned, and later, it was said, a considerable amount of jewelry was recovered from their homes. Other jewelry had been sold in Youngstown, it was asserted. State motor police will attempt to recover it today, they said.

According to the motor police, the boys took the wrong trail because they wanted to buy an automobile.

After recovering some of the jewelry the purported owners were summoned and, the officers claim, a considerable amount of loot was identified.

Among the homes burglarized, it was alleged were those of Professor Reese of Sharon and Attorney Martin Cusick of Sharpsville.

Among the loot recovered, the state motor police claim, was:

Five cigarette cases, three leather billfolds, nine watch cases (the works were removed and the old gold sold) seven wrist watches, seven men's pocket watches, ladies breast watch, gold knives and chains, and many other articles.

The state motor police stated today that in view of the many alleged robberies in Sharon it was likely the boys would be first arraigned in Mercer county.

They were fingerprinted and photographed by New Castle's Chief of Detectives Willis G. McMullen this morning.

CARRICK-BOYLE NEWS REVEALED AT DINNER

At a lovely dinner party given in a prominent tea room downtown Monday evening, news of the marriage of interest to many was made known to a group of friends, the principals being Miss Dorothy J. Carrick and Thomas J. Boyle.

At 7 o'clock, a delicious full course dinner was served at a table appointed in tones of pink and green, and a miniatre "Wishing Well" with little Pinnochio standing along the side lines which formed the unique centerpiece, claimed much attention. At each place were midget "old oaken buckets" filled with sweets, where a "tiny town shingle" was concealed bearing the wedding news. It read "Dot and Tom—April 15, 1940."

The ceremony took place at West Bridgewater on April 15, at 6:45 o'clock in the evening, with the Rev. J. Walker St. Claire, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. He used the single ring service, and the couple was unattended.

Mrs. Boyle, the daughter of Mrs. Mary L. Carrick of R. D. 5, New Castle, is affiliated in the offices of the Besemer Loan Sand Company. Mr. Boyle, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Boyle, of 380 Neshannock avenue, is a member of the New Castle Police Department.

The couple have taken up residence for the time being in the Allen Apartments at 380 Neshannock avenue, where they will be "at home" to friends.

Honoring their pastor and his bride, the Rev. and Mrs. O. G. Shindledecker, nee Erma Matthews, members of the Wesley Methodist church gathered in the assembly rooms Monday evening and tendered them an informal reception shower.

A violin solo was given by Geraldine Graham and a coronet solo was contributed by Arthur Chill. Mrs. Fay Biley pleased with a poem, and in opening, Miss Bacon also offered an appropriate poem. Hymns were sung by the group at intervals throughout the evening. In closing, Mr. Cox offered prayer.

During this procedure, Tom Grittie and Mrs. Kathryn Bailey pleased with a humorous vocal duet, and in addition, Mr. Grittie gave a solo.

Beautiful spring flowers, Chinese umbrellas and candles arranged on tables set in U formation, formed a lovely setting in the First Presbyterian church, Monday evening for the farewell dinner given in honor of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Heaton, by the New Castle Ministerial Association and Ministers' Wives club.

Stump, who spoke on the subject, "The Policy of the Association Is to Emphasize Things on Which We Agree and Allow Every Man His Own Opinion in the Things We Disagree," and Mrs. W. J. Holmes, who told of the Heatons' probable moving experiences. Rev. Stump, in speaking of Dr. Heaton, emphasized the fact that "he has always been himself."

Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, president of the association, gave the invocation which was followed by a true-false quotation game under the direction of Mrs. Carl Andreason. Also a feature of the program, was musical selections by the Ministers' Quartet, composed of Revs. Thomas B. Shearer, Milton E. Shearer, D. L. Ferguson and S. E. Irvine. Their accompanist was Mrs. J. B. Withers, of the Ministerial Association; Mrs. S. E. Irvine, chairman, Mrs. C. N. Moore and Mrs. Carl Andreason, of the Ministers' Wives. ### IL DUCE CAUTIOUS IN HIS DILEMMA

FURTHER evidence of the extreme caution with which Premier Mussolini is feeling his way along the tightrope of Italy's neutrality is given in his two-sentence address on the occasion of Rome's 2692d birthday, celebrated as Italy's Labor Day.

On this important anniversary, when Il Duce might have been expected to make a strong speech to his Blackshirt followers, he confined himself to a plea that "in this particular moment" the watchword of the Italian people be "Labor and Arms." This is a very mild talk from Mussolini.

Other Fascist spokesmen are not so mild. Giovanpi Ansaldo, editor of Foreign Minister, Count Ciano's newspaper, who recently warned that Italy couldn't keep out of the war, now reminds that the losers in the conflict will have a very hard time. The implication is that if his country gets into the war it ought to pick the winning side, a doubtful matter at this stage.

Mussolini's position as quasi-ally of Hitler is difficult, but it remains doubtful whether he will indicate any definite stand —in spite of the friendly assurances he exchanges with the Fuehrer, his axis partner—until the success of the German adventure in Scandinavia is more clearly established.

Meanwhile, the efforts of Premier Reynaud of France to reach a Mediterranean understanding with the Italian leader still hold possibilities of affecting the European line-up.

DESTRUCTION HAS BEGUN

Often you hear the thoughtless words: "Wait until the war gets really going, think of the destruction!"

But the destruction has already begun. Every time you read a headline saying that a bomber has been shot down, it means that a $150,000 ship, produced of the finest ingenuity and materials, has become junk. It means death or removal from action of a pilot it cost $30,000 to train.

All these material losses, outside the priceless lives, mean the skill and labor of men gone for nothing. Instead of going to serve men and make their lives easier, this skill and labor has gone to drag them down, lower their standard of living.

That is the effect of all the destruction of war, and already it has gone a long way in Europe, with the end not in sight.

HAVE A SAFE SUMMER

Summer isn't far away. And the coming of that pleasant season means, to most of us, vacations, adventures in the out-of-doors, work about the house and garden, and a generally happy and healthful time.

We can do much to assure happiness and healthfulness by doing our part to fight summer fire hazards this year. Each change of season brings new dangers. Uncut dry grass in a vacant lot, combined with a carelessly disposed of cigar butt, may mark the starting point of a holocaust that will destroy lives and property. And a vacationist's carelessness with a campfire may result in the razing of thousands of acres of magnificent timberland which nature spent centuries in creating.

Every town should adopt a "clean-up" campaign during the summer months. Old shacks, prime breeding places of fire, should be razed. Garages and homes should be painted. And the utmost care should be taken with any and all flammable materials.

There's one more little task that every householder should perform in summer, in the interest of comfort as well as safety. That is to put the heating plant into prime condition before next winter brings its demands for warmth. Don't trust heating plant repairs to yourself or another amateur. Have them done by an expert, who knows his job—the money spent may pay tremendous dividends.

Have a good time this summer. And as one step toward that goal, keep the dangers of fire everlastingly in mind.

RUMORS FROM MEXICO

There may be something in the dispatches about disquiet beyond the Rio Grande. It is barely possible that the communists are really concocting something against the government suoth of the border down Mexico way. The reds have an incurable inclination to do things internationally, and they would consider a communistic set-up in Mexico a challenge to the comfortable capitalistic order in the United States.

A Mexico City newspaper, Prensa, asserts that no less than thirteen prominent members of the international red organizations are in Mexico at the present moment under orders from Stalin to stir up an agitation of a revolutionary nature designed among other things to discourage the United States from entering the war against Hitler. If these reds really thinks there is danger of the United States becoming involved in Europe, it just goes to show how dumb these reds are.

In calling the roll of red visitors, the Prensa registers Peter Manoulisky, vice president of the comintern. He calls himself Kalowsky in Mexico. Also Leon Haikiss, secretary of the comintern, now using the name of Leon Jacome; also James W. Ford, secretary American communist central committee; also Narciso Bassois, head of secret police of the communist internationale. It does not appear that the inveterate trouble-maker, Trotsky, is taking a hand as yet.

One of the purported schemes of this crowd is the creation of a "peasant army" from the peons, with such democratization of the Mexican army that all class distinctions therein will be abolished, after the soviet model. What makes all this sound fantastic is the assumption that an army modeled after the soviet horde could make the slightest impression in the United States.

If this is propaganda, Americans will be neither impressed nor entertained.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FACING SCHOOL FAILURE

Now that the school year is in the home stretch, there are many elementary and high school pupils, as well as college students, who are facing the prospect of not getting passing grades. Some of these near the danger line might "make it" if they exerted more effort or had special help and guidance. Others would work harder if they only could gain heart and feel some hope.

Some will fail because of indolence or careless study habits, and most of these will be hounded and abused by their parents, and reminded of the "disgrace" which their failure will bring upon the family.

It may be too late now to correct these habits sufficiently to effect a passing grade. Anyway, lecturing, tongue-lashing or tugging at their heartstrings hardly will help. Usually such procedure by parents contributes toward the child's failure and builds a well between the child and them.

More Self Control

If you, my fellow parent, have a child in danger of failing at school or college, you will do most to assure his passing by working on yourself so as to acquire more self-control. If you can be objective and skilful enough to prepare a workable program that your son or daughter will choose to accept, you will have won a great victory. If you can discipline yourself so as to create a calm and hopeful atmosphere at home for the school child who seems to be facing failure, and can win his co-operation in a plan of study so effective as to put him over the line, your triumph will be glorious. To this end you might get help by conferring with the school or providing a tutor for him.

You might help your child beyond the fourth grade by reading to him from his textbook assignments which are too hard for him, helping him get the content and turn it into a few words of his own. Whether he passes or not, this will be good investment for his future learning.

You might discover, however, upon careful looking into the matter, that your child's arrears are too great to be made up in the time left. In this event, discipline yourself to bring no more pressure on the child but to help him plod on as hopefully and conscientiously as possible.

School yourself to be able to help him meet the final verdict of his failure calmly and without being crushed. Put your hope in the future, in his greater success next year Instead of heaping more worry, sorrow and ignominy on him, help create a family attitude toward him which will reassure him of the family's faith in him and love for him; which, moreover, will help him keep faith in himself and still feel worthwhile.

Between now and next fall try to arrive at a way that will help this child pursue his studies more successfully. Always we must look ahead. Always it's the future we must keep in mind.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Why don't parents and teachers put on more parties for children from six to 14?

A. Because so many children of this age, especially from average and well-to-do homes, are so unrestrained that they will damage the home if not the nerves of the hostess. Think of the children denied opportunities for wholesome fun and social education because their parents failed to train them in the alphabet of self-control.

Q. I have no children but some friends come to my home with a little child and let him break or destroy things there. What should I do?

A. Do the best you can. Your friends who permit such things are about the meanest mothers I can imagine. Sometimes I think they ought to be in jail. At least they should reimburse you for the damage done. But who will ever repair the moral damage they inflict upon their child by not restraining him?

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By FRANCINE MARKEL

Cynthia is seldom on time for a train, show, her meals, a party or her office. She always gives the excuse that she cannot hurry because of her nerves. Her sister today took her to a psychiatrist—one of the kind that is too prosperous to list you for regular "treatments." Instead he tells you where to get off.

He told Cynthia that her nervousness was the result, instead of the cause, of tardiness—that the surest foundation of neurasthenia and psychoses is the habit of getting up in the morning just late enough to start apprehension complexes about eating enough breakfast, acquiring indigestion from eating too fast, catching the train, the street car, the bus, the subway and getting to the office before the boss checks up.

Congenial work with a hopeful prospect is never hard enough to wreck the nerves, this specialist said. And, he added, congenial work can't offer a hopeful prospect to anyone who is habitually tardy.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: How long before the marriage should the engagement be announced and must the wedding date be announced also with the announcement of the engagement?

—Fiance.

Answer: It is not at all necessary to state the wedding date when the engagement is announced. It is sometimes, but seldom, done.

The engagement is usually announced from six months to a year before the marriage, but it need not be. When the girl receives her diamond, the news leaks out and if she is questioned about her wedding date, she may state that it has not been settled. She really owes no explanation to anyone but her own and her fiance's parents.

Dear Miss Markel: A friend of mine wore a red hat and carried a red bag while attending a funeral. Although the deceased was not a relative, this woman did go to the cemetery along with the other mourners. Don't you think that bright clothes are out of place at such a function?—F.

Answer: I certainly do! While it is not necessary to wear black, one should avoid wearing bright colors at a funeral. The family of the deceased should, of course, wear mourning clothes.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

What's What At A Glance

Democrats Have Ray Of Hope
Simpson "Purging" Is Cited
New York Republicans In Feud

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Democratic political dopesters are in high glee over the New York Republican state committee's recent vote ousting Kenneth F. Simpson as the Empire State's Republican national committeeman because of his non-support of Thomas E. Dewey as a candidate for his party's presidential nomination.

It begins, to be sure, only as a New York state Republican unpleasantness, but the Democrats' hope is that it will develop into national proportions. They realize, of course, that their own party is badly split, which worries them no end. And oh, how happy they'll be if a lot of ill-feeling characterizes the G. O. P. convention.

Conjointly with Simpson's "pugging", Edwin F. Jaeckle was chosen as chairman of the Republican state committee. Jaeckle's a strong Dewey-ite. However, though Simpson's been purged, his friends (and he has some influential ones) insist that he's entitled to continue as his state's national committeeman until after the convention, at the earliest. They say they won't recognize any other selection in the meantime.

Now, if that convention starts off with a pair of contesting national committeemen from as important a state as New York, or with a Dewey-ite state chairman and rival Dewey-ite and anti-Dewey-ite national committeemen, the Democrats reckon that the whole convention will be badly disrupted.

Muss Already Spreading

The row already is spreading beyond New York's boundaries.

Alf M. Landon, from as far away from New York as Kansas, has sent congratulations to State Chairman Jaeckle, as a boster for a liberal Republican presidential nominee. He named no names, but it was hard to interpret his message otherwise than as an indorsement of Jaeckle's favorite candidate—Dewey.

Plenty of Republicans, though, aver that nobody knows whether Dewey's a liberal or a conservative. They say he's too juvenile and inexperienced to be calculable.

Some of these Republicans are nearly as influential as Alf Landon, though more or less anti-Dewey-ites.

For instance, there's Representative James W. Wadsworth of upstate New York. He's notable enough to be a G. O. P. presidential dark horse. He doesn't call himself anti-Dewey, but he does call himself Pro-Simpson, which is largely the same thing. Representative Francis D. Cudkin, another up-state New Yorker, is a pro-Simpson-ite.

And there are others, too numerous to mention.

About the New Deal?

They accuse Kenneth Simpson of having said:

"Well, there are lots of things all to the good about the New Deal."

They don't believe he should have made any such remark.

And they say he's written letters pooh-pooh-ing Dewey.

The Dewey-ites' story is that he's pro-Taft or some such candidate—an alleged conservative candidate.

What the Republicans want to do is to set off a supposedly moderately conservative Republican candidate against a supposedly cuckoo radical Democratic candidate.

The Republicans already have intra-Democratic dissention. The Democrats' game is to cook up intra-Republican dissention. They just love this New York friction.

The Democrats are "busted"—they know that.

What they want to see is the Republicans busted, too.

If they want to do some good publicity, they better get on with their job.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

STALIN

Stalin of Russia is credited with being the most powerful single human being in the world and one of the greatest. He differs from his fellow dictators in that he heads an International "movement" while the undisputed ruler of a nation of almost 200,000,000 people. He is not a high-strung neurotic or somnambulist like Hitler, nor is his command of physicial power associated with emotion, like Mussolini. It is said of him that he is about as emotional as a slab of concrete and if he has nerves they are veins in rock.

He is patient, tenacious, slow-moving, cool, shrewd and he has guts. He is an Oriental, and it is written that when once visited by a Japanese envoy, he broke the ice by saying, that "I too am an Asiatic."

He has been a revolutionary for forty years. His real name is Yosif (Josef) Visarionovitch Dzhugashvili and he was born near Tiflis, in the remote province of Georgia, in 1879. He was the son of a cobbler and by his parents was slated for the priesthood and for four years attended a theological seminary, but he turned to politics and revolution. He chose the name of Stalin which is Russian for steel. He is a confirmed Soviet, and his war is a war against "class."

The uprising in Russia wiped our "class" in bloody execution. In Soviet Russia force is applied directly, and as experience has shown Stalin has no compunctions about killing off any or all who get in his way, or the way of the sweep of Communism throughout the world. He makes no bones of this. He believes in the principle. Lady Astor is credited in an interview with asking Stalin, "How long are you going to go on killing people?" His reply "As long as it is necessary."

This is the inhuman, ice-cold, brutal murderous ideal of the man who stands above all others through out the world in advancing human enslavement. It is in fateful opposition to this creed that the few remaining people's democracies are planning the future circumstances of the human race.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1940 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The most thrilling news transpiring from the war—and by far the most important as affecting the outcome of the war—has come not from the land or the air but from the sea.

The daring raids of German subs in Scapa Flow. The sinking of the Courageous. That thrilling running sea-fight off the coast of Uruguay and the scuttling of the Graf Spee. The raid of the British destroyers in Norwegian waters, the boarding of the prison-ship Altmark, in old-time "boarders away" fashion, as they fought hand-to-hand battles on the open decks as they did in the days of Benbow and Drake and Horatio Nelson. The sea-fights in the Skaggerak and the Kattegat. And the daily emphasized and reiterated lesson that the nation which commands the sea, and can keep that command through overwhelming superiority in the strength and number of fighting ships, is the nation which will win the war.

In the past five months that lesson has been driven home to the consciousness of the members of our Congress. An object lesson in Admiral Mahan's celebrated thesis on sea-power has been supplied almost every day. Therefore, we are going to have a navy, and if the habitually dilatory methods of Congress are temporarily abandoned, we shall have within three years the greatest and most powerful navy in all the world.

As Mr Frazier Hunt remarked the other day, we are rich, proud, always right and enjoys sticking our nose in other people's business. To retain such luxuries demands an unbeatable navy. We're going to get it. By 1944 we're going to have—if slothfulness does not prevent—16 battleships, eight of them brand-new, two of them 45,000 ton monsters, eight more battleships under-age, quite modern, 45 magnificent cruisers, 150 destroyers, and another 150 in reserve; 56 modern submarines, eight aircraft carriers and 3,000 active navy planes.

It will be a navy thirty per cent larger than the Japanese possess.

Now that gangsters rule whole nations and destroy whole nations, our statesmen have finally abandoned starry-eyed faith in the essential goodness of mankind. American statesmen find that humanity today—that part of humanity which craves liberty as it craves the breath of life—is in the most perilous situation it has faced since the collapse of the Roman Empire and the inrush of the pagan barbarians from Eastern Europe and Western Asia, precisely as they are rushing in now.

We have discovered that we live in a world of men, not angels. International law is no more. Every day shows it. Treaties are useless. Pledges are worthless. Force only is respected. Liberty all over the world is throttled or threatened by tyrants. And it is not safe to be a bleating lamb in a den of wolves. It is obvious that the American peo-

Mrs. Joseph Mirowski, a relative of Jack Gerson has located her parents through the International Red Cross Inquiry Service. Weeks ago the Lawrence County Chapter sent in an inquiry to the Red Cross Office in Geneva and today news has been received the parents are safe in Warsaw, although little of their needs can be learned, for mail is carefully watched.

This is the seventh successful inquiry completed by the local chapter, but there remain many to be heard from. The service of Inquiry and Information is being extended to Norway and Denmark. # Senior Play To Be Presented At School May 3

"You Can't Take It With You" Will Be Staged By High School Seniors

Tips of sunshine on the forsythia bushes, throngs of loitering students before school-time on the broad sidewalks of the senior high school, are straws in the wind that will soon bring the June graduates to their commencement. And the commencement season for some 300 young citizens will open on the evening of May 3 with the public performance of the class play, "You Can't Take It With You."

Miss Clara Hartsuff, dramatics coach, has chosen this popular three-act comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufman for the commencement play. It was first produced at the Booth Theatre, New York City, in 1936 and has since been put on the screen with the same success that originally welcomed it to the legitimate stage. In the hands of the carefully selected cast of seniors, the play is to be presented now for the first time for the entertainment of friends of high school stagecraft in New Castle.

The senior class play has long been traditional in the school. Its production is the chief way in which the class organization raises money to defray the expenses incidental to the various commencement activities. With the students who enjoy acting, however, and who make up the class in dramatics, the class play is a joyous opportunity for artistic expression. Their one thought is to develop a performance that will rival any preceding one on the high school stage, in the pleasure it will give to an always enthusiastic audience. And so high school dramatics, like high school music, makes it definite contribution to the cultural life of the community. "You Can't Take It With You" will be another milestone in the school's contribution to community entertainment.

Beaver Falls Takes Action To Keep Concern

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 23.—Beaver Falls city council voted Monday, 3 to 1, approval of a joint proposal by the Board of Education to give the Beaver Metropolitan Coach Company 12 acres of the site of the old Penn Bridge Company property in the Seventh ward.

The conditions of the plan, which must be approved by the school board as the property had been taken over for taxes, are that the bus company pay $6,000 to the trustees of the Penn Bridge Company, who will then issue a quit claim.

W. F. Baum, president of the bus company, said his company had outgrown its present site in Tenth avenue, and would take the Penn Bridge Company property or move to New Castle, where an attractive offer had been made.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 23.—Governor James today finds himself in the same predicament faced by his predecessors as he prepares to issue a call for a May special session of the Legislature. . . The date for convening the Legislature presents no obstacle, but the number of subjects to be included in the call does. . . The governor was earlier known to have decided on including only two subjects in his call—the appropriation of additional relief funds and extension of the Pittsburgh - Harrisburg superhighway to Philadelphia—but pressure has been brought to include other subjects.

The foremost one is revision of the unemployment compensation laws. . . The governor agrees with a Legislative committee that revision of the jobless benefit laws to exempt employers from paying taxes on salaries above $3,000 a year would be a good thing and would not promote controversy, the one thing the governor wishes to avoid in the special session. . . The rub, however, is that although under the law the Legislature can consider only those subjects enumerated in the call, there is nothing to stop the Legislators from taking what action they choose on the subjects which are enumerated.

Other subjects which the governor is being asked to include in his call are amendments to the milk and liquor laws.

The imposing array of attorneys from all parts of the state that are present at state pardon board sessions included a modern portia last week. . . When the board called the case of a Luzerne county slayer, up stepped an attractive young lady who identified herself as counsel for the applicant. . . She was Miss Josephine B. Lippi Mullen from Philadelphia and it was her first appearance before the board. . . She ran headlong into a rebuke when she attempted to read a two-page statement begging clemency after insisting she had a half hour to enter her appeal. . . Chairman Samuel S. Lewis, the lieutenant-governor, told her that the board would be in session all night if everyone was permitted a half hour.

More than 300 representatives to the annual intercollegiate conference on government held at the state capital adopted a series of resolutions including the placing of an embargo on goods destined for Japan and extending continued financial aid to China. . . At the same time they recommended a treaty with Japan "and other interested powers" to neutralize the Philippines. . . They also urged American neutrality, extension of the "cash and carry" program on war shipments, and strengthening of the Monroe Doctrine. . . Despite their serious attitudes, their youthful spirits cropped out at a meeting when they halted a speaker's flight of oratory with signs reading "we want to eat."

Tense Situation Seen In Panama

Shooting Of Two Policemen By Army Sentries Branded "Cowardly Act"

ARMY PREPARES COURT MARTIAL

(International News Service)

PANAMA CITY, R. P., April 23.—The recent mysterious shooting of two Panamanian policemen by United States Army sentries has resulted in a tense diplomatic situation which is becoming daily more highly provocative in the Republic of Panama. The incident, now under investigation by both Army and Panamanian officials, has developed into a two-sided issue with both administrative departments publicly presenting their own versions.

At the present time reports of possible reprisals for the assault on the policemen are being circulated in Panama. The local press through editorial columns has asked Panamanians to "remain serene and calm." The Panama Free Press, in reporting the shooting, said:

"It is the kind of story that—had strained relations existed between the United States and Panama—would have produced banner headlines and special international radio broadcasts were it not for the fact that Panama and the United States are such good neighbors. It is the kind of story that would have—were it not for the fact that the greatest friendship exists between the two peoples—in other lands produced a follow up of another story of a general mobilization order, closed frontiers and brought threats of ruptured diplomatic relations."

Army Inquiry Completed

The Army has completed an official inquiry of the shooting and is now preparing court martial proceedings against the three sentries. Meanwhile, in Panama, Colonel Manuel Pino, commandant of the Panamanian police force, has completed his findings and published a scathing condemnation of the episode branding the shooting as a "cowardly act."

The affair will undoubtedly resolve itself into a Department of State technicality. Some observers say Panama will seek indemnity from the United States for the assault, while others say a public apology from the United States will be demanded.

The shooting took place at 3 o'clock in the morning of March 17 on restricted limits of Army property in the Canal Zone near A brook Field, important Pacific air base. According to Army reports, the Panamanian police, in civilian clothes and armed with revolvers, were discovered on Army property and challenged for questioning. When the police attempted to escape they were shot and wounded.

Colonel Pino, in his statement in behalf of Panama, said the two policemen were enticed to cross from the Republic to Canal Zone territory, were disarmed, and shot in the back. Colonel Pino alleges the Army had been notified of the presence of the two plainclothesmen, but a high Army official declared there is no such report on record.

Just why the Panamanian police were in the vicinity—a deserted back road—is a matter of conjecture. The local press, has revealed the police were stationed there to watch for attempted smuggling of arms and ammunition across from Army territory to the Republic for use in a possible revolution during the coming presidential election. There was such an occurrence in 1935.

Involved in the shooting were: Panamanian policemen Julio C. Gonzales and Miguel Antonio Castillo, both in a critical condition in a local hospital; and Army sentries Corporal A. W. Frazer, and Privates E. G. Lindsey and H. E. Leaser; all in Army custody.

AROUND CITY HALL

Finance Director James L. Fink has issued a list of city expenditures amounting to $52,470.21 for the month of March, as follows:

Office of mayor, $363.05. Office of four directors, $1,150.64. Civil Service, $70.00. City Clerk, $228.74. City Controller, $221.21. Tax assessment, $250.60. City Treasurer, $1,655.08.

License tax collector, $11.00. City Solicitor, $764.47. City Buildings, $615.82. Municipal garage, $143.23. Bureau of electricity, $51.18. Police, $8,732.66. Fire, $8,793.39. Weights and measures, $79.24.

Health bureau, $674.61. Sanitary sewers and sewage disposal, $1,374.03. Public Comfort station, $383.39. Garbage collection and disposal, $3,261.17. Ash collection and disposal, $101.38. Engineering, $436.64. Streets and bridges, $2,471.15. Storm sewers, $995.67. Street cleaning, $1,750.95. Street lighting, $5,592.12. Certificates redeemed, $1,330.05. Interest on certificates, $180.00.

Parks, $484.74. Cascade Park, $451.84. Golf course, $345.98. Compensation and liability, $595.96. Golf course relief project, $0.75. Scott street sewer relief project, $26.40. Grant Street sewer relief project, $0.60.

Neal Street grading relief project, $459.75. Big Run sanitary sewer relief project, $169.44. North Jefferson Street sewer relief project, $1,405.94. Street program, relief project, $2,306.45. Euclid Avenue storm sewer relief project, $381.00. Filing liens, $13.00.

State tax on bonds, $1,851.23. Tax refunds, $4.66. Old Library tax, $1,091.66; 1937, $173.93; 1938, $9.47; 1939, $1,019.78; 1940, $1.16.

Traffic Commissioner Thomas Jones is endeavoring to minimize auto accidents here and a few of the hazards are as follows:

Twin parking.

Parking of cars, opposite the current traffic, especially with headlights illuminated at night.

Cutting in an out.

Reckless operation and speeding.

Failure of motorists to keep back of safety line at intersections until motorists receive the "go ahead" light or signal.

Parking where yellow lines prohibit parking.

Failure to obey Stop Signs.

In a foregoing item one will note where it cost the city $101.38 for ash collection and disposal during March. Annually, the cost of ashing streets to prevent auto accidents, approximates $2,000. During early spring when heavy rains or thaws follow snow-falls the street department must not only place the ashes but clean ashes from the improved streets after rains or a thaw comes, to prevent clogging of sewers.

The cost of operating the parks, especially Cascade and Sylvan Heights golf course will perk up with the advent of warm weather. However, receipts from Cascade Park and the Golf course will help to meet the cost. It is likely, too, that the city may be required to furnish some equipment for playgrounds.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Come, gentle spring! Ethereal mildness, come!"

The poet wasn't fooling, either.

Spring is gentle and mild—the mildest time of all the year.

There is no safer month than April.

Fewer fatal accidents occur in April than in any other month.

It would be nice to have April all the year.

There would be 12,500 fewer deaths from accidents with 12 Aprils.

Accidental deaths average 285 daily throughout the country.

The daily average for April is 251.

July, the most fatal month, averages 367 deaths per day.

April is not really a safe month, with 251 deaths per day.

It is only the safest month regarding accidental deaths.

PORTRAIT OF A HAPPY FAMILY

They've just made a big decision—a happy one in what it meant to them in pleasure and comfort and thrift—and they made it carefully and sensibly.

They bought a new car—a new 1940 Plymouth.

They considered "All 3" low-priced cars. They found, at the Plymouth salesroom in chart form, a clear picture of what each low-priced car offers.

They saw that of 22 features in high-priced cars, Plymouth offered them 21, compared to 11 and 8 for the "other two" low-priced cars.

And they discovered Plymouth's Luxury Ride was just as revealing—just as conclusive.

Those of you who were born in the United States may think you appreciate your citizenship and the right to vote. You may believe you appreciate it but now and then it takes some naturalized citizen to demonstrate just how deep the appreciation goes.

The name of this citizen need not be written. He has been a citizen but a short time, fact is he got his papers only a few months ago. He was a little confused as to when he could register to vote, which is not surprising and just yet he is not as avid a reader of the paper as you are.

But he wanted to vote. He lives in the vicinity of Ellwood City. On Monday he prgsented himself to the permanent registration bureau to register and of course was refused as the lists are closed for today's election.

To get to New Castle he hiked all the way from Ellwood City and then hiked back. His citizenship and his right to vote were precious enough to him that he was willing and did, walk 25 miles. And yet there are people in the county who were born in the United States and either have not registered or else faile to vote on election day.

Mike Miscunic was taken to the western penitentiary on Monday, there to serve a term of from three to six years for receiving stolen goods.

The last election board appointments and deputy constable appointments for today's election were handed down Monday by Judge W. Walter Braham. Harry Smiley was appointed judge of elections in the third precinct of Shenango township, vice J. I. Weinschenk. George Crable was appointed inspector of elections in the first precinct of Shenango township, vice Harry Kelley. Nicholas Vago was appointed inspector of elections in the fifth precinct of the fourth ward, vice John D. Ecker. C. M. Eakin was appointed judge of elections in Scott township, vice J. L. Burton.

Upon the petition of Constable Joseph Russo of the 7th ward the following deputies were appointed for the election. First precinct, Ben W. De Nuccio; 2nd precinct, Walter Evanoski; 3rd precinct, Albert Russo.

Upon petition of Constable Raymond Talley of Wampum, C. F. Miles was appointed deputy.

Upon petition of Constable R. J. McCrumb of Plaingrove township, Fred Hohmann was appointed deputy.

Upon petition of Constable M. L. Newton of Wayne township, the following deputies were appointed, 1st precinct, John Fosnaught, 3rd precinct, Robert Ketter; 4th precinct, William Galvin; 5th precinct, John A. McKim.

The last of the election supplies went out on Monday, finishing a tour of the county for Cliff James. In a few days he will have to make a return tour, picking up the boxes, and returning them to the court house.

Civil Governor For Norway Is Germany's Plan

Josef Terboven Leaves For Norway To Establish German Administration

(International News Service)

BERLIN, April 23.—The first definite indication of Germany's future plans with regard to Norway came today with news that Josef Terboven' hard-fisted young Nazi Gauleiter of Essen province, had left for Oslo.

According to reliable indications, Terboven will establish in Norway the same sort of German administration that prevailed in Belgium from 1914 to 1918, when a Belgian civil governor functioned alongside the German military command.

Anything in the nature of a protectorate is not planned for the moment, it was understood. But Terboven probably will be named civil governor, thereby removing all administrative and civilian tasks from the shoulders of General Nikolaus Von Falkenhorst, the German commander permitting the latter to concentrate on military operations.

At the same time, it was reported that Herr Von Renthe Finck, German minister to Denmark, had been appointed special representative of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler in that country.

Terboven, well known in the Rhineland for his stern administration of justice, is regarded as one of the "oldest veterans of the Nazi movement" despite his comparative youth. His presence in Norway may evolve into the same sort of administration that is now functioning in German Austria and Poland, although plans to establish a protectorate are denied.

MacNichols Speaks To Exchange Group

Gives Interesting Report Regarding Gra Y Division Of Y. M. C. A.

Henry T. MacNichols, activity secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spoke before members of the New Castle Exchange club on Monday evening in a North Jefferson street restaurant.

MacNichols spoke on the Gra Y club division of the Y. M. C. A. which is sponsored by the Exchange club.

During the year, 10 different Gra Y clubs have been organized with a total membership of 402 boys. Each club is supervised by teachers from the various schools on the south, east and west sides. Six rallies were held during the year in which boys participated in basketball, swimming and other indoor contests.

MacNichols stated that this year's activity was one of the best organized and had received outstanding cooperation from school authorities, teachers and lay leadership. The work has been stabilized so that it gives a much broader opportunity for more boys to receive the advantages of the "Y," which would not otherwise be possible.

The Gra Y club also participated in an essay contest on citizenship in cooperation with the Exchange club present Americanization program. The winning papers will be published and awards will be made to writers of the four best papers.

L. J. Lewis, who presided and introduced MacNichols, reported the progress being made in the Americanization program and expressed appreciation of the excellent cooperation extended by the New Castle News, Radio Station WKST and Dr. C. C. Green.

H. Gill Brown, chairman of the radio committee, announced that J. Kenneth Atkinson will speak over WKST on Thursday, at 2:30 p. m. on "Subversive Activities in America." This is the second of a series of broadcasts in connection with the American Citizenship Program.

The club will meet again next Monday night at 5:45 p. m. when a special program, to be announced later this week, will be presented.

There is a dull red glow over the city of Hilo, Hawaii. Spurts of flame and steam and columns of smoke arise from the crater of the volcano of Mauna Loa, active again after five years. In 1935 it flung a river of molten rock, 600 feet wide, toward Hilo, and the United States Army just barely rescued the city from the fate of Pompeii and Herculaneum by sending out army planes to drop 600-pound bombs into the crater to divert the river of fire. The present eruption is spectacular but does not yet threaten as did the one of five years ago.

Mauna Loa is wicked enough when he shoots mile-high columns of fire into the air and tips his white-hot lava pots so that great rivers of melted rock go creeping down its slope like relentless beasts, but he is not one of those crazy Japanese volcanoes which let go without the slightest warning, overwhelming thousands of lives in an instant. When he gets restless, Mauna Loa sputs and sputters. Smoke rises higher and higher and grows denser and denser. Then the earth rends apart and the lava comes boiling up, to go creeping down to sea.

Nobody on the island of Hawaii really seems afraid of old Mauna Loa, which is 13,000 feet high, or nearly as tall as Pike's Peak. There are villages close by the crater. The government of the United States (for the volcanoes are part of the Hawaiian National Park, and therefore under Uncle Sam's care) maintains a tourist hotel almost on the rim of Kilauea. Just now it is Mauna Loa which is acting up, but its twin Kilauea, never actually sleeps.

In the midst of a level plateau is a vast crater, three miles across. From that enormous crater steam rises constantly, from a thousand crevices And in one spot there is a pit of living fire, like a furnace in full blast, an unforgettable sign of the frightful forces eternally struggling for escape.

SHOES

I see that makers of orthopedic shoes in the state of New York are seeking legislation intended to restrict the fitting of corrective shoes in the hands of trained experts. The idea is to have the business controlled in the same way that optometrists are licensed.

Such measures whittle away at the rights of the individual, I suppose, but nevertheless, there is a good deal to be said in favor of the idea. I suppose that theoretically a person should, in a democratic country, be wholly free to go into a store and get any kind of shoes he wants regardless of whether they fit his feet. On the other hand, we have and need regulation of the business of fitting spectacles, and it seems to me that protection of the feet is as important as protection of the eyes.

Certainly, I know that a great many people today suffer from bad feet. All you have to do is watch any group of persons walking along the street. I think that about 75 per cent, perhaps more, of these troubles would be eliminated if persons wore proper shoes. I suppose there are two reasons persons able to get them don't wear the proper shoes—they don't realize they need them, or when they did buy orthopedic shoes the man who fitted them didn't know his business. So if this last factor is removed by state examination and licensing of fitters it would be of obvious benefit.

The orthopedic shoe people argue that orthopedic shoe fittings deal largely with persons suffering from actual physiological complaints. So, there is real danger in allowing untrained men try to fit corrective shoes.

The shoe people are aiming high in their plans for trained fitters of orthopedic shoes. They ask that the state examining board have medical men, because they think a qualified fitter must have knowledge of physiology, pathology, anatomy, mechanical orthopedic construction and shoe construction and design.

Most foot troubles really begin in childhood and I'm afraid parents are to blame for them. When children are small, their bones are soft. It is easy then to squeeze these tiny feet into ill-fitting shoes, and after a small foot has been crammed in a bad shoe for a while, then it gets out of shape. It may be only in later years that the child begins to suffer for these early shoes. Then orthopedic shoes are needed to correct the damage done in babyhood.

If we could only devise some way of seeing to it that children's feet were properly shod, I think we would solve the majority of foot troubles. School nurses and doctors can help a lot by keeping an eye on children's feet, but the responsibility rests on the parents.

Current Disasters In Country Costing Red Cross Big Sum

Assist At 15 Disasters In Country Costing $300,000 At Present Time

Attorney Joseph McFate, disaster preparedness chairman of the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross, has just received word the American Red Cross is officiating at the scenes of 15 disasters throughout the country as a cost of more than 300,000.

Disaster relief responsibilities of the Red Cross increased considerably during March when 11 seasonal tornados struck in the deep south. Flood waters affecting four states have also called for Red Cross workers and funds.

"From the standpoint of needs for rehabilitation, the recent Susquehanna valley flood, the California floods and the Albany, Ga., tornado were described as the most serious,' stated Mr. McFate.

Mr. McFate points out that Red Cross workers are now engaged in the following sections of the country: Albany, Ga., tornado, 4,000 persons affected; northern California floods, 30,000 persons affected; three Louisiana tornados, 5,360 persons affected, and many other smaller disasters.

The Lawrence county chapter was in communication with Wilkes-Barre, Pa., during the emergency period of their recent flood and was ready to serve if needed.

She Didn't Sense, Either, That The Census-Taker Knew

When it comes to putting in last words one New Castle census-taker has a story to tell.

She is an Italian lady who speaks English and Italian very well. And she is assigned, for that reason, to a district embracing a substantial Italian population.

Up to one front door she walked last week—and the door opened. The woman who responded waved her hands, and, in Italian, indicated she could not speak or understand English and couldn't answer questions. But she rushed upstairs and came down momentarily with another woman, who greeted the enumerator in English.

'Tell Her Anything'

"Just tell her anything" said the first woman, in Italian, to the second, who was to be her interpreter The questioning proceeded and the woman who first came to the door seemed to be amused at it. Conversation was between enumerator and interpreter. More conversation brought wider smiles to the face of the lady of the house.

When the interrogation ended the smiles of the lady did a quick reverse when the young enumerator, speaking in mannerly Italian, turned and said:

"Thank you very much. It was a pleasant interview."

Senator Norris Thinks Roosevelt Will Not Run

Forecast Given By Nebraskan

Says Recent Primaries Show Distinct Trend To Republican Party

PRESIDENT RUNS AHEAD OF PARTY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 23—President Roosevelt will seek a third term only if there is an irresistable demand from the people" for his renomination, Sen. George W. Norris, Nebraska liberal, forecast today.

Unless there is such a demand, Norris added that he is convinced the president will retire to private life at the end of his present term. Norris one of the president's most intimate advisers, expressed belief that Mr. Roosevelt is looking ahead to the day "when he can be free of his executive duties."

The Nebraskan, who bolted his party in 1932, and then changed his party in 1936 to support the president, declared recent primaries showed a distinct trend to the Republican party. He said:

"Recent primaries show two trends.

Trend To Republicans

"First, there is a distinct trend to the Republicans for various reasons, some of which are illogical to me.

"Second, the president is running ahead of his party. He is maintaining his popularity, though his party is losing favor."

Touching on the third term issue, Norris said:

"I don't believe the president is going to run for a third term. I am convinced he doesn't want to run. I wouldn't, if I were in his place. He's given eight years to his executive duties and if I were in his place I would be looking forward—as he is—to the day when I would be free of them."

Norris stressed the great volume of business flowing across the presidential desk. He pointed out that Mr. Roosevelt was so busy he had to eat his lunch at his executive office desk.

Believe Jones To Defeat Guffey In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 23—John B. Kelly, Philadelphia Democratic leader, and Jay Cooke, Republican city chairman and senatorial nomination candidate, today agreed on one point—that Walter A. Jones will defeat U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey in the Democratic primary in Philadelphia.

Cooke went one step farther, predicting that Jones also will beat out Guffey in the state and win the nomination.

"I think Jones will carry Philadelphia," asserted Kelly, who has declared a "hands-off" policy in the Democratic fight even to refraining from visiting the polling places today. "as far as the state is concerned, I can't tell. I'm staying neutral until the polls close. I'm going out to play golf this afternoon."

Cooke was up with the sun to cast a ballot for himself in the GOP senatorial race. He arrived in joyful mood at a garage polling place before the election officers had their papers ready. He was driven by his chauffeur the half-mile distance from his Montgomery county estate and said that Mrs. Cooke would "be along later."

Germany Claims "Crushing Defeat" For British Troops

Berlin Asserts Thousands Have Been Wiped Out In Lillehammer Sector

(International News Service)

BERLIN, April 23.—The British expeditionary force to Norway has suffered a "crushing defeat" and thousands of troops, chiefly Canadian, have been wiped out in the Lillehammer sector, German military headquarters announced tonight.

The main British detachments are now cut off in the interior of Norway from the landing ports of Andalsnes and Namsos, the announcement said.

Several hundred survivors of the Lillehammer battle have been taken prisoner, including a large number of Canadians, and are now enroute to Berlin, it was said.

The announcement said that Canadian forces, sent into action for the first time since the war began, apparently were formed into an advance guard for the losing attack on German troops near Lillehammer.

German observers placed the Canadian contingent at between 2,500 and 3,000 men.

Ellwood Church Will Observe Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, April 23. — To mark the 35th anniversary of the Immanuel Reformed church one of th leading congregations of this city, an extensive program has been planned for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings with special services on Sunday morning and evening.

Included in the interesting chuch history is the following notes:

Under the direction of Allegheny Classes, Rev. Alpha K. Kline, city missionary of Pittsburgh, visited Ellwood City to inquire into the advisability of organizing a Reformed congregation. Many people from Reformed churches had moved into Ellwood City. Some had united with other churches, but more than 30 Reformed people were found who had not united with any church in town. The missionary felt warranted in going forward with the work, confident that the future growth of the town would be a fertile field for a new congregation.

The first service was held in the Odd Fellows Hall, in the First National Bank building on Lawrence avenue on Feb. 5, 1905. The attendance was small, but all entered heartily in that first service. On the following Lord's Day Rev. Kline started the Bible School with three pupils, meeting at 10 a. m. There was difficulty in getting officers and teachers, and at first the increase was slow. Services were continued in this meeting place until the first of April when the vacated Welsh Baptist church at the West End of town was leased for 25 dollars a year and services were transferred to that building.

On the first Sunday of April a meeting was held to arrange for the organization of a congregation. A canvass was made and names secured of those who desired to enter such an organization. The following Sunday was set as the day for organization.

Organized In 1905

Sunday, April 9, 1905, was the day of organization. There were 12 charter members, as follows: John Scheidemantle, Christian Frishkorn, Mrs. Margaret Frishkorn, Moses G. Snyder, Mrs. Tessie M. Snyder, Mrs. Anna Marburger (Ricer), William Scheidemantle, Mrs. Magdaline Scheidemantle, Henry M. Cresswell, Mrs. Mary M. Cresswell, Lawn Harrold, Mrs. Eva Harrold.

The first Communion was held on Sunday, April 16, 1905. All the charter members communed, also a number of visitors.

The constitution was adopted on March 18, 1906.

The Board of Home Missions enrolled Immanuel church as a Mission on July 1, 1907, with 38 members. The church has continued as a mission since that date.

The congregation worshipped in the Welsh church for about two and one-half years, until they moved to their own place of worship in November, 1907. In August, 1907, the congregation bought two lots: 80 feet on Crescent avenue and 160 feet on Eighth street for the sum of $2,-500. A wagon shop was situated on one of these lots, and this building was fitted up to use the first floor as the place of worship.

Later it was decided to build a new church and to finish the basement only. On March 5, 1911 the congregation decided to proceed with construction, and on April 10 authority was given to close the contract for the erection of a church building, at a cost of $7,635, not including plumbing or art glass windows. On April 17, ground was broken by the pastor, Rev. S. A. Stamm. The corner stone was laid on June 4, with appropriate services in the afternoon, and Dr. D. A. Souder, superintendent of missions, was the main speaker. "Opening Day" November 19, 1911, was a happy day for Immanuel Congregation. The completed basement was ready for use. Special services were held, with Rev. Lewis Robb of Wilkinsburg, preaching the opening sermon. An offering of $2,346 in cash and pledges, was received. The total cost of the building, including price of the lots, was $12,142.20.

Formally Dedicated

For several years the congregation worshipped in the basement. Later the auditorium was completed, was formally dedicated on June 24, 1917, during the pastorate of Rev. James B. Musser. The cost of completing and furnishing the auditorium was $4,448.07. Of this amount $3,286.61 was raised, in cash and pledges, at the time of dedication.

In 1922 the beautiful brick parsonage was built, at a cost of about $7,500, during the pastorate of Rev. A. M. Schaffner.

The twentieth anniversary of the organization of the congregation was held April 5 to 12, 1925, when special services were held for one week, with Dr. Schaeffer and Dr. Mullan of the Home Mission Board, and neighboring ministers as guest preachers. At that time an offering of $2,309.33 was received, including cash and pledges.

During the pastorate of Rev. Maxwell the location of the altar and the arrangement of the pews was changed, and the two-manual Tellers-Kent pipe organ was installed. The total cost of the organ, including the alcove housing the organ was $4,451. This amount was raised through contributions of individuals and organizations.

The pastorate of Rev. May was marked by extensive repairs and improvements at the church and parsonage.

Becomes Pastor In 1939

Rev. Loch assumed the pastorate on December 15, 1939, and has been the chairman of the 35th anniversary committee. The original committee appointed by the consistory was composed of: H. M. Cresswell, G. C. Nicklas, R. T. Sitler, W. G. Duncan and Rev. Loch. Each member became chairman of a subcommittee, as follows: History—H. M. Cresswell; display—G. C. Nicklas; publicity—R. T. Sitler; finance—W. G. Duncan; program—Rev. Loch. In addition to the original committee, the following are members of the large anniversary committee, F. D. Powell, Charles McKim, Walter Moon, C. E. Powell, Harry Shirey, Jesse Fehl, Norman Pack and Charles Stevenson. There is now a communicant membership of 190. The Sunday school enrollment is 128.

With a glorious history in the past thirty-five years, the church looks to the future, confident that the best is yet to come, and that in the years ahead it will increase in usefulness and service to the community, in numerical strength and in financial ability.

The program for the first service follows:

Harmony Night

Organ voluntary, Robert Stevenson, organist; Hymn 1, "Come, Thou Almighty King"; invocation; anthem, choir of Grace Church, Harmony; scripture reading; prayer; offering; special music; greetings, Rev. J. O. Gilbert, Harmony; announcements; Hymn 302, "Jesus Calls Us"; sermon, "The Advance of the Church," Dr. Paul J. Dundore, Greenville, Pa., president of the Pittsburgh Synod; Hymn 311, "Lead On, O King Eternal"; benediction; triple amen; postlude.

Nazification Of Norway Starts

By J. C. OESTREICHER
International News Service Foreign Editor

The attempted Nazification of Norway began in earnest today even as German troops were locked in bloody battle with Anglo-Norwegian forces the length and breadth of that newly-invaded land.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler followed a familiar and oft-tried pattern by packing off to Oslo young Josef Terboven, the "Gauleiter" of Essen Province in the Rhineland, who henceforth will serve as civil administrator of Norway.

The word "Gauleiter" is enough to forecast what now will come. It means "district leader." It is a title held by a handful of men in the Nazi Reich, each of whom has been baptised in the fires of Nazi ideology and revolution, tried in the balance of Nazi loyalty, and found not wanting.

The "Gauleiters" are the toughest men in Nazi Germany. They have to be. Each is responsible for the unflagging patriotism and unabating support of every last man, woman and child who lives in his district. Terboven long ago proved his worth in this regard.

Some years ago, in one of his frequent speeches to the Reichstag, Hitler told these "Gauleiters" what they had to do, and made no bones about it.

Milt Taylor Wins Vicious Battle

Substitutes For Jarisik And Beats Saunders In Three Rounds

TWO KNOCKDOWNS FANS IN FRENZY

Folk who like to have their beef served rare had their appetite fully appeased last night when Milt Taylor, substituting for Sparky Jarisik of Pittsburgh, defeated George Saunders, Golden Glove 175-pound champion of Youngstown in a blood-curdling three round amateur bout in the Arena.

The fighting was so vicious pandemonium broke loose in the second round when the Cecil lad, who was the under-dog, flashed to the front. When the battle ended the frenzied fans let go a salvo of cheering.

When Sparky failed to appear the announcer, Bugs Walther, told the crowd: "If you don't like the fight, you can get your money back." Milt did not like this announcement.

"That's an insult" he asserted to a friend and when he got into the ropes he proceeded to show that, so far as he was concerned no one would beckon the box office man for any refund.

Saunders, a cool, seasoned, Meerschaum Kid, started out as though he would soon send Milt to the cleaners. In fact, just before the round ended he dropped Taylor with a short right uppercut to the jaw for nine.

Taylor pulled himself off the floor and the round ended in a flurry of punching. When the second opened Milt was as fresh as a daisy. The knockdown apparently had not impaired his senses or stamina.

He drove Saunders to the ropes then inveigled the Meerschaum Kid into a slugfest. His reach enabled him to peck a left into George's face. Saunders tried desperately to land a lethal left cross to the head.

Saunders Down

A right to the face caused claret to ooze from Taylor's nose and in an exchange in the center of the ring Saunders forced Milt to break ground. Taylor renewed a left jab attack to the face.

Suddenly Taylor shot a right when Saunders dropped his left guard. The punch sped like a bullet and the "Blitzkrieg" found Saunders on the floor with Referee Tom McMahon tolling a count.

At the count of five the bell sounded. It was a welcome sound. Saunders walked to his corner where his seconds worked feverishly to send him out fresh for the third session.

And what a third round! Blows fell like rain drops, only heavier. Taylor's advantage in reach stood him in good stead. Saunders tried to get in close to deliver a paralyzer. Taylor's left kept catspawing.

Taylor was staggered with a right to the jaw and took a left jab and a right cross. Taylor flashed a rapier like fist into Saunders face and repeated. They next engaged in slugging.

The substitute shot a couple of more lefts to the face as Saunders crowded in attempting a solar plexus or a right to the chin or heart.

The fighting was hard in this round although both were tired. The fans were upon their toes. Some were cheering. Others were stamping their feet when the end of the bout came.

The decision was given to Taylor and, if the Jefferson A. C. knows their pugilistic onions they will plant a few requests to grow a second Taylor-Saunders fight. Both deserved a lot of credit for the fight they staged.

Baxter Wins, Reale Loses

The entire card was pleasing. Russell Baxter, a local youngster, at 147, outboxed and outsmarted a roly-poly Andy Benesch of Youngstown. It was a preliminary battle. Baxter looked good for his short experience in the ring.

Billy Reale, the Castlewood plowboy, stacked up against Shed Bell, of Youngstown, at 165. Shed outboxed and outmaneuvered Billy who's Sunday right failed to land on a vulnerable spot.

Frankie Karik, veteran Youngstown middleweight, won the decision over Bobby Carmichael, Cecil. Karik was the more seasoned and better puncher. Bobby tried hard but Karik's experience couldn't be denied.

The Mike Condella-Benny Malone fight was a classic. It was worth the money and hours spent by the fans. Condella, a G. G. 126-pound champion of Youngstown, received the referee's vote when the judges split their decision.

There wasn't an idle moment in the first two sessions but going into the third round Benny had Condella swinging and retreating. Condella was in a corner at the end. His edge in the other rounds brought him the referee's vote.

Tall Johnny Swanton, an ex-G. G. king at 126 of Youngstown and Cecil Billy Murray put on a splendid boxing exhibition and as usual, Cecil Billy came through with a decision.

Sonny Horne, one of Ohio's best amateur fighters, took a three-round decision from Charlie Arkett of West Pittsburg. They weigh 147 Sonny kept out in front throughout the battle. None of Charlie's attempted soporifics hit a thinly cushioned nerve.

The two baby-sized youngsters, Johnny Morinella, an ex-champ of the G. G. ranks in Youngstown and Frankie Cortey, Niles and present holder of the toga, fought in the first preliminary.

Cortey took the opening session. Morinella fell through the ropes and was helped back in the second. He was then dropped for a count of five when Cortey sent a beautiful right hook to the stomach. Cortey won the third round and bout.

The fight was staged by the Jefferson A. C. The referee was Tom McMahon, judges, George Perotta and Ray Gray and timekeeper, Carl Cialella. Tommy Leach made the matches.

Bill Talbot, Rochester, was the deputy for the state boxing commission and Ed. Fritz for the A. A. U.

Yankee Pagley and Clyde Lennox kept the fighters going in and out of the ring and there wasn't a moment's delay.

Penn Relays To Commence Friday

Over 3,000 Young Athletes Entered In Events At Philadelphia

MANY RECORDS WILL BE BROKEN

By FRANK J. BURKE
International News Service Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—The vanguard of 3,000 track and field stars from 500 colleges and other schools throughout the nation began converging on Philadelphia today to limber up for the gigantic Penn Relay Carnival at Franklin field on Friday and Saturday.

Indefinite postponement of the Olympic games lend added importance to the 47th edition of the annual Penn Relays. Victors in the classic contests would be excellent material for the substitute "all-American Olympics" which International News Service learned will probably be held in Los Angeles July 4.

Feature of the two-day meet will be the effort of Chuck Fenske, Wisconsin graduate student, to crack Glenn Cunningham's field record of 4:11.8 in the mile. The bespectacled Fenske is an odds-on favorite to defeat Gene Venzke and Walter Mehl, Western Conference mile champion.

Hope For Records

In addition to the mile, outstanding events scheduled are the special 100-yard dash and an invitation 120-yard high hurdle race. Mozel Ellerbe, Tuskegee flyer who tied the carnival record of 9.6 last year, is favored in the hundred, while Frank Fuller of Virginia, is after his second straight hurdles triumph.

Georgetown's Al Blozis will have another shot at the world's shot-put record. Some experts believe he may be pushed to a new international mark by up-and-coming Ed Beetham, Penn weight-man.

Toughest task of the games is that of the University of Pittsburgh which will be defending four relay titles won in last year's unprecedented sweep. With long-striding Johnny Woodruff graduated, Pitt has only a slim chance to retain its laurels in the 440, 880, one mile and sprint medley events.

Bucky Walters Pitches First Win Of Year

Cincinnati Tops Cardinals 2 To 1, Reds Have Won Three Straight Games

PIRATES THUMP CHICAGO CUBS

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 23.—It took Cincinnati 20 years to win a National League pennant and from all indications today the Reds are beginning to make up for those long, lean years.

Playing in what is known as a pitcher's league, the Rhinelanders apparently hold the ticket to another flag with what is believed to be the best hurling department in the circuit, possibly in both circuits.

To date Manager Bill McKechnie's boys have won the only three games they have played, and in each contest their pitchers have allowed the enemy but one run.

Walters In Shape

In the first two games, Paul Derringer and Junior Thompson set down the Chicago Cubs by the identical score of 2 to 1.

Yesterday it was Bucky Walters, the third siege gun of Cincinnati's moundsmen, who went the route to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, preseason favorites to unseat the Reds as National League champions.

Walters, a 27-game winner last year, didn't allow a Cardinal player to reach third base until the ninth, when Enos Slaughter doubled and Don Pargett singled him home for the only St. Louis run. The final score was 6 to 1.

In the other National League battle, Pittsburgh bunched 10 hits off four Chicago pitchers to score a 9 to 5 win over the Cubs. It was Frankie Frisch's rebut as manager of the Pirates before the home fans, the official opener having been delayed three days because of bad weather.

In the American League, Cleveland jumped on Pitcher Howard Mills for four runs in the first inning before an out was made and ultimately wound up with a 5 to 2 victory over St. Louis. Willis Hudlin set the Browns down with seven hits, one of which was a homer by Harlan Clift with a man on base.

Tigers Beat Sox

Earl Averill's pinch single in the ninth inning, scoring two runs, gave Detroit a 6-5 triumph over Chicago. The day was a costly one for the White Sox, who had two players forced out of the game with injuries. Shortstop Luke Appling was spiked on the left knee when tagging out Hank Greenberg on an attempted steal, and Lynn Nelson was hit on the hand by a line drive off the bat of Mike Tresh.

Otherwise the weather still marred the schedules, washing out Boston at Brooklyn and New York at Philadelphia in the National League and Washington at New York and Philadelphia at Boston contests in the American.

Some very good performances were hung up, for instance Hammond blazed through in the 100-yard dash with a 10.3 seconds time which is very good for high schools. Hammond was second high point man for the meet with four firsts, the 100, 220, high jump, and 120-low hurdles for a combined 20 points.

Crosley Field At Cincinnati Resembles Lake

Flood Waters From Rampaging Ohio River Cover Reds Ball Park

MAY NOT PLAY BEFORE SATURDAY

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., April 23.—Old man river, which yesterday, like the St. Louis Cardinals failed to defeat the league-leading Cincinnati Reds, appeared likely to gain revenge today.

Flood waters of the rampaging Ohio River continued to swirl into Crosley Field, home of the National League champs. Occupants of boxes had water lapping at their feet yesterday as they watched the Reds mark up an easy 6-to-1 victory over the Cards behind the superb, seven-hit pitching of Bucky Walters.

Warren Gilles, optimistic general manager of the Reds, put off his final decision—to play or not to play—until 10 o'clock this morning. But matter-of-fact army engineers were not so kind-hearted—they flatly predicted the field would be covered by game time.

Not Before Saturday

Crosley Field starts flooding when the river reaches a 57-foot stage, or five feet above normal flood stage. The river passed 57 feet at 6 o'clock last night, and a sixty-foot crest is expected. There was four feet of water in the dug-outs at the end of yesterday's game.

The hard-boiled army engineers refused the rabid Reds fans any consolation before Saturday. "They may be able to play then, if the field can be put into condition very quickly," they reported. "But there likely will be water on the diamond until Friday."

Walters pitched shut-out ball until the ninth, when the Cards shoved over their lone tally. Bucky helped his own cause by driving in three of the Red's six runs with a single and a long fly.

Two fast double plays, in the fourth and ninth stanzas, got Bucky out of minor difficulties, but the rest of the game was a breeze for the hurler who last year recorded 27 victories.

Another 300 Score Bowled At Detroit

America's Keglers Continue To Blast Records; Eighth Perfect Game

America's keglers continue to shatter records in the current American Bowling Congress being staged in Detroit.

Only a week ago George Hallage, of Akron, O., crashed his way into fame by recording a 12-striker.

Yesterday, another Ohioan, Angelo Domenico, 27-year-old Canton steel worker, busted all tourney precedent by chalking up a 300 game.

This marked the eighth perfect game in the 40-year tourney history and the initial time that two 300 games have been rolled in one ABC tourney.

Local sports spray:—Fred Shaffer made his 1940 American Association League debut last Sunday afternoon against St Paul. His appearance on the Louisville mound was one of those short bizarre events. The hitherfore silent bats of the Saints played a series of dizzy tunes with the localite's offerings. All told, the Paulies whacked seven hits in one and one-third innings.

Everything was at a standstill as the ball moved rapidly along the shiny alley toward the duckpins. It was one of those "nine pins and a wobble" hits. Failure of the No. 7 stick to tumble cost Dom Dimeco a perfect score here on Saturday night. As it was, the Croton avenue kegler had to be satisfied with a 299 count. The excited spectators still can't figure out what kept that lone soldier up. . .

Johnny Carik won't twirl in New Castle—for a while, at least, and possibly never again. Carik is slated to report to the Beaver Falls club, the St. Louis Browns' farm hand, on April 29. Successful flinging in this circuit will mean advancement for the lean ex-New Castle High star. Mlike Coates, an outfielder, is also slated to report. A broken leg injury, still in the mending stage, may force Coates to turn down the offer.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Today is election day . . . by the time you read this paper the day will be about over . . . but many of you will still have time to jump into a coat and dash over and cast your vote . . . it is all important that you do this . . . you owe it to your city, state and country. We have the privilege over here of saying how we like things done . . . if you let someone tell you how to vote or neglect to vote altogether you are giving away this privilege. As a good American citizen you are obliged to vote and do it to the best of your ability.

* * *

The census takers are getting around . . . every day we hear one of the boys say that D--- census taker was at our house and of all the questions. Maybe so boys and girls . . . but why not answer them peacefully and get it over with. They are asking everyone in the United States the same questions. Some one made the bright remark that in the years to come there will be just one question beside your name the census taker will ask . . . and that question will be . . . "What Government Alphabetical Agency or Department".

On Edgewood Avenue there will be found a piece of property (Corner lot, Edgewood and Delaware) that the owner once had the idea of building a home on. In fact he had gone so far as to dig the cellar . . . something or other happened and that is as far as the project went. However the cellar was left open and during the past heavy rains it has filled with water . . . some four or five feet deep. Small children like to play around water and in spite of all home warnings they will keep it up. However we think this cellar situation should be investigated before some child falls into it and either has a bad scare or serious accident. We refer this to the proper authority and hope that something will be done for the safety of those who live in this vacinity.

* * *

According to reports that have been coming into this desk . . . there seems to be a great demand for playgrounds. A city our size should provide playgrounds. Playgrounds that are properly supervised and equipped. It won't be long until the children of today will be running things tomorrow . . . we must raise them in the proper way or they won't be worth their weight in salt.

Savage Attack Made On British Bases In Norway

(International News Service)

BERLIN, April 23—German aerial warfare so savage that a perfect hail of bombs has been dropped on British bases in Norway almost every few minutes of the last 48 hours was revealed by qualified military sources today.

Evidently in keeping with Saturday's threat, Nazi bombers have attacked Andalsnes, Nomsos and other British ports in continuous waves. As soon as the bombers pass, fighter planes go into action with machine guns.

Stock Market Tone Listless

General Trend Is Mixed—Changes In General Are Quite Narrow

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, April 23.—The stock market today maintained its listless tone of the preceding session, with the general trend mixed.

Paper stocks again were features, with International Paper preferred and Container Corp. at new highs for the year.

Celanese ran up a point to a new top late in the second hour. Union Carbide gained as much in the chemicals, while American Telephone and Loft each lost a point before meeting support.

Elsewhere changes were narrow. Steels firmed after a mixed start, along with motors and chemicals. Mail orders and rails gained slightly. Aviations eased all along the line, as did Western Union, Eastman Kodak, North American and N. Y. Central.

Jr. C. Of C.-NYA Back Boys' Center

Organizations' Committees To Study Project Election Plans Made

The New Castle Junior Chamber of Commerce will co-operate with local National Youth Administration leaders in developing plans for a boys' center for New Castle.

President John P. Brinton appointed L. J. "Odey" Foster, junior chamber vice president, to work with Mrs. Olive Hewitt, Lawrence county NYA supervisor, in advancing plans for a center somewhat similar to the Crawford-Oakridge home for girls. Mrs. Hewitt outlined the proposal at last night's junior chamber session in The Castleton.

Several junior chamber members were named to the committee with Foster.

Preparations for the organization's annual election of officers went forward as President Brinton named a nominating committee to select candidates for various junior chamber offices. Named were: Alexander M. Gardner, chairman; Joseph Grimm, David Clark, Frank E. Eichholtz and John Riley.

Ralph H. Newingham, heading the junior chamber committee in charge of the new recreation building project, reported "good progress." He said WPA approval had been won and that cleaning of old bricks for the new structure on Lockley field, in the Croton section would commence shortly.

The junior chamber's annual election will be May 13 and installation of new officers will be May 27.

WILL EVACUATE 500 FAMILIES AT CINCINNATI

Ohio River Rises Relentlessly To Anticipated Crest Of Sixty Feet

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., April 23.—Cincinnati authorities today were to evacuate 500 families as the Ohio river rose relentlessly to an anticipated crest of 60 feet—eight above flood stage—but flood fears subsided with the waters on the upper reaches of the stream.

The reading at Cincinnati was 58 feet this morning, with the crest expected sometime tomorrow. W. B. Schlomer, meterologist, said an anticipated high mark was predicted without taking into consideration possible additional heavy rains. Showers were forecast for tonight.

A shipment of vaccine was received from the state health department, and city health officials urged all persons working or living in the flood area to be inoculated against typhoid.

Meanwhile, the Ohio river reached or neared flood crests along most its length. Several hundred persons were reported homeless in various sections, but the situation was regarded as past the danger point.

A dozen roads in the Cincinnati area was blocked by flood waters.

At Marietta and Pomeroy, which for a time appeared threatened by serious floods, the Ohio river apparently had reached its peak. Some streets in Marietta were covered to a depth of three feet, but the water was reported receding. The business district in Pomeroy had seven feet of water, but the worst apparently was over.

Three Candidates For Senate Cast Pittsburgh Vote

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 23—Pittsburgh's three candidates for the Democratic senatorial nomination cast their ballots bright and early today, with at least two of them confident that nightfall would see them victorious.

United States Sen. Joseph F. Guffey dropped his ballot in a box in the seventh ward. Walter A. Jones chairman of the Pennsylvania turnpike commission and his chief opponent, cast his ballot in the courthouse in the second ward.

Former Mayor William N. McNair, in a pensive mood, voted in the eleventh ward.

Both Guffey and Jones expressed confidence of winning, but Jones left Pittsburgh immediately after voting for Bedford, to inspect construction work on the turnpike. He said:

"The rest of the boys can look after the election. I'm looking after the turnpike right now."

"RETONGA PROVED A BLESSING TO MY WIFE"

Mrs. Henry George Had Not Been Able To Go Down Town For A Year When She Began Taking Famous Herbal Medicine. Her Husband Gives Facts To Public.

Little short of astonishing are many of the benefits from Retonga reported by well-known men and women every day. Mr. Henry George, well-known theatrical instructor residing at 212 Sanduskey St., Pittsburgh, who retired from the stage many years ago, but continues to teach both singing and dancing, recently said:

"My wife was so deplorably weak and nervous she has not been able to come up town for over a year. Her bowels were very costive and her whole system seemed to be out of order. Her resistance was so low that she had one cold after another. She woke up about two o'clock every morning and could not get back to sleep for the coughing and nervousness. We did not spare money on medicines and treatments but somehow they just did not seem to be the right thing for her.

"One bottle of Retonga has done her more good than everything else put together. Her bowels are acting normally and her other elimination seems as it should be. She sleeps well, and her coughing has just about stopped. She is so much stronger she looks forward to getting out and down town again. Retonga has simply been a godsend to her."
